"Breakaway"

i really don?t know what i?m looking for but it must have been something more and i know i have to break away i?ve got to break away

and every now and then it?s hard to see what kind of future lies ahead of me i just know i have to break away
i?ve got to break away

and every day goes by i see the world passing me by while dreaming out of my window i have to let it go and the wind is blowing high it?s getting stronger every day and i?m dreaming out of my window i really don?t know what i?m doing here i?ve never ever been anywhere and i?m not going to waste another day i?m going to break away i can?t remember what i came here for

but it must have been something more i just know i?ve have to break away
i?ve got to break away
