"Frozen"

Blue fingertips are sore from tracing your curves, i've severed my nerves on a rusty cellar door.
Wrestle this heavy broken handle corroded from within, secret words cannot dismantle

Fear... I just don't want it Fear... I just don't need it Fear... I just gotta say...

Not your frozen angel anymore

Emotion is dying on the vine, cast a shadow of ice with her alibis.
Cold transparent love grown black, can't push hell away, your faces will crank a lock you'll never crack

Fear... I just don't want it

Fear... I just don't need it Fear... When's it gonna stop?

Not your frozen angel anymore

I'll buy you a ghost to take my place, to amplify everything to feed on the mania you've seen she knows all about hell emotions frozen you'll never see this side of me again not your frozen savior anymore

not your frozen angel anymore
