"Suffer Like You"

Crack the sky, this castle will hold you high until you come down
Like a lie of love from a broken son with your throat full
of dust

Are you still calling out her name?
love, Do we have to fall unbroken by change?
Do you want me to crawl to suffer like you...

Tell your lies this temple will sell you high until you fall down, like a lie of live from a broken son with your throat full
of dust

Are you still calling out her name?
love, Do we have to fall unbroken by change?

Do you want me to crawl to suffer like you...

Misery loves company, laugh and point at agony
Misery loves company, laugh and point at suffering

Like a lie... Like a lie
Are you still calling out her name?
Suffer like you.
