We have to believe it has to go on We have to believe what we love will be gone.

So keep all hope inside Keep on believing And you know that you'll get by Just keep on trying Just keep your chin up, don't let life get you down. Keep on believing And you'll see that the best is yet to come Just keep on trying

And you'll look back when the last day comes And you'll know you done everything And you'll see.

We have to believe it has to go on Or we'll have to believe what we love will be gone. We have to believe that it has to go on You have to believe what we love will be gone.

So get up, take the ride, Don't go along with the tide Haters won't wish you well Fuck them straight to hell Every, Every, Everything will be ok Every, Every, Everything will be ok So when everything goes according to plan And it falls into place in your hands Know that you've done it all!

So start the Ride, Rollercoaster the rest of your life.
