

Mike Mineo "Lucky Coin"

Visit "Lucky Coin" on MotoLyrics.com

There's a pretty little girl in a hot sundress,
She dances in the wind with a tattooed chest
And I pick her up in my convertible Corvette and give her ride she'll never forget
And we fly down the path speakin poetry
Takin deep breaths of the forestry around
On our way to be found,
And I wish, I wish I could want nothing

Arabian Desert in the heat of the dawn,
The horizon is red and the sand reflects neo Past all the beauty of a worldly cause,
I can't feel the pain where my mind has gone,
And I meditate the day and fall in a trance
I watch the sun rise and it makes the heat waves dance around,
Knowing I'm no where bound,
And I wish, I wish I could want nothing,

In the fountain of youth where the water is pure,
The indigo children ponder upon it's shore
They take little sips from the heavenly pool
And wonder of a world where love only rules,
And I walk up to the fountain with my wrinkles on,
The children are singin and it's my favorite song
As I drop a coin in and move on,
And I wish, I wish I could want nothing

The universe is vast in it's manifested infinite creation
There's a time there's a place,
There's an ocean there's a space within your imagination,
But I wish, I wish I could want nothing,
I wish, I wish I could want nothing

Visit Mike Mineo page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.