What did you expect, it's always been this way
Looking for the chance to finally feel complete
Years fly by, you only live the past
Disowned, by myself, don't ask why
I'm losing battles that I've already won
I'm fighting demons that are already dead

Left that space inside my head
Empty space without a trace
Feelings all but lost inside
Emotion hard to fight, emotion now is hard to find
The full void, an empty well
Cobwebs in a jaded hell

These are the things that I don't want you to hear
The hidden traits that I fucking fear
There's certain things I keep inside
The dark side of my mind
There's certain things I cannot find
The dark side of my mind
These are the things that I don't want you to see

Say goodbye to all of those thoughts
Say goodbye to everything
Say goodbye to a mind locked in the past and all I've kept inside
Breaking and taking this home I've been making Waking and faking these breaths I've been taking

Life takes a hold, time takes it's toll
Life takes a hold, takes control
