If you have some time for me, then I will sing a song for you about 99 balloons on their way to the horizon.

Perhaps you think of me now, then I will sing a song for you of 99 balloons and that such comes from such.

99 balloons

on their way to the horizon.

All mistake them for UFOs

because of that a General

sends a flight squadron after them to give an alarm if it is so. but there on the horizon were only 99 balloons.

99 Jetfighters,

Each was a great warrior,

regarded themselves as Captain Kirk

They gave a great fireworks!

The neighbors did not realize and felt offended.

There they shot upon the horizon

At 99 balloons

99 Ministers of war

Matches and Gas canisters

Were waiting for clever people

Who smelled the fat spoils

Called: War! and wanted power.

Man, who had thought

That it would have come to that

Because of 99 balloons.

99 year war

did not leave a place for winners.

minister of war gives no more and also no more Jet planes.

Today I make my rounds,

I see the world in rubble.

I have found a balloon...

I think of you, and let it fly.
