Aim and fire,
Words write through my heart
Some things should end
Some things should never start

There is trouble you can't just wipe away
I don't talk when there's nothing left to say
I don't hide the liquor next to my cereals
Side to side with all the ingredients
I'm keeping just in case

Don't you ever pull this stunt a-gain,
I've had enough of this

Aim and fire,
Words write through my heart (hey, alright)
Some things should end
Some things should never start (hey, alright)
I could tell you many stories
None of which will end in glory
I got shot yet I don't call men down

There is struggle you might see everyday
This time I'm not the lo-ser in the play
I won't call to ask if you're in relationships
And I don't give a damn who you're staying with Guess we walk in different pace

Don't you ever pull this stunt again,
I've had enough of this

Aim and fire,
Words write through my heart (hey, alright)
Some things should end
Some things should never start (hey, alright)
I could tell you many stories
None of which will end in glory
I got shot yet I don't call men down

Aim and fire,
Words write through my heart
Some things should end

Some things should never start
Aim and fire
Aim and fire
Aim and fire

Aim and fire,
Words write through my heart (hey, alright)
Some things should end
Some things should never start (hey, alright)
I could tell you many stories
None of which will end in glory
I got shot yet I don't call men down
I got shot yet I don't call men down
