Before all things fail, there are words I must Say even if nobody hears. I'm moving today, Moving away, by your side nobody stays (anyway)Ã¢â€Œ!

had no idea about the way of certain things for long i was but sure that the rivers flow along but when the dams burst where could we stand when our wings burn how can we land don't let me move into this house i built on sand I'd wake up to break down again each and Every day

When finally I'd be strong enough to stand God, don't tell me it's all in vain
When finally I'd be strong enough to stand
No, don't let me it'll stay the same

What's left is what never leaves this crazy Old me.
Sore eyes but a strong heart, it's no more
A must flee
Have no venture, I wade across the stream Now I beleive you were a comfortable dream
In the nightmare of being awake
I will step on the head of the snake
