whoa oh
oh you think it's funny that you've got another boy now whoa oh uh oh uh oh in the same apartment where we kissed a million times when we were oh oh oh so young and in love just innocent kids striving to make love

in your room, on you're couch in your car, well what was that about when you were so oh

oh so quick to get out of my arms and into the next next hundred guys that are just friends in her mind but they have lust in their eyes and i'm not sure, if you care both those lips, will touch theirs oh no

now it's just a month left till you hit the road and leave all that you know behind to with away thinking i'm screaming your name in my dreams hell no

now it's just a point i gotta prove to myself to keep the hell out of my room where your ghost lies loving ready for most anything this blows to finally be giving up on all that time we spent telling each other i love you i guess it was just a matter of the time that we spent

but those guys are waiting for you up there and you'll kiss one in the night air with the stars shining on your bright hair and you'll fall in love and you'll fall in love with him and you know that i'll always care just enough to let you know i'll be there when you fall when you fall to pieces
