One of the ways that I'm alone tonight
Is not having her by my side
But we both know alone's way more than that
When you start to feeling it inside.

Across the bar there sits a woman
We've watched each other all night
Behind that woman hangs a mirror
It's like I see me through her eyes

I see a man that I don't recognize
I see a man who just might, so

One of the ways that I'm alone tonight
Is not having her by my side

As I sit here reflecting
Thinking about how life has been
I could go home and deal with this
Or sit right here and find a friend

So barkeep here's my paycheck
Set her up and let it ride

One of the ways that I'm alone tonight
Is not having her by my side
But we all know alone's way more than that
When you start to feeling it inside
When you start to feel
When you start to feel
When you start to feeling it inside.
