

Patrick Stump

"Mad At Nothing"

Visit "Mad At Nothing" on MotoLyrics.com

When you're feeling petty
And overwrought
I'll be there to be your target
You can throw me what you got
I will take it with a smile
You can dole it without shame
But I will never be your problem
I will never be to blame

Cause you are mad at nothing
You're just wasting time
I'm not bluffing:
You should've been a friend of mine

When you're feeling guilty
And out of steam
When you're looking for forgiveness
You can take it out on me
When your hands are overflowing
With stones you wish to throw
And your eyes drip with excuse, and someone lit your fuse,
This is something you should know

You are mad at nothing
You're just wasting time
I'm not bluffing:
You should've been a friend of mine

Right now you're just sour
But that can sweeten with time
But I'm not bluffing:
You should've been a friend of mine

Visit Patrick Stump page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.