The old folks are in the livin' room going broke
The kids are in the basement takin' off their clothes
I'm in the kitchen talkin' to you
'Bout what your cookin' and the Khmer Rouge

Isn't there a song somewhere
Where we could be alone
Where we could be alone

Do I look alright hangin' on your wall?
What do you think a night like this might go for?
Would you be angry if you knew I stole
A song that you didn't know that you wrote

Isn't there a song somewhere
Where we could be alone
Where we could be alone

Now it's you that's hangin' 'round my house
And I'm still putting words in your mouth
Now your thoughts are more mine than yours
Hope you never find out what I used them for

Isn't there a song somewhere
Where we could be alone
Where we could be alone
