Trust.

You, you got your head in a scream,
And I'm, I'm trying to get your attention.
You appear as a child put your heart on a seam,
But you're acting exactly as you do in my dreams
I said you, you are not what you seem.
And you're finding out that

Falling down can feel strange
No one remembers your name,
You're losing the game
That's the thing about trust.
It's always the same
Sad story again
You lose all your friends
That's the thing about trust.

You, you got your head in a swing
Yeah, and I, am trying to give you salvation
You appear as a devil
Like a wolf in the woods
But you're acting exactly as we excepting you would
I said you, you read the words that I sing,
It's a shock to the system.

Falling down can feel strange
No one remembers your name,
You're losing the game
That the thing about trust
It's always the same
Sad story again
You lose all your friends
That the thing about trust

Don't lie to me when the pressures on, you gotta
have trust
Don't lie to me when the pressures on, you gotta
have trust
Don't lie to me when the pressures on, you gotta
have trust
Don't lie to me when the pressures on, I said you gotta have trust

Falling down can feel strange
No one remembers your name,
You're losing the game
That's the thing about trust
It's always the same
Sad story again
You lose all your friends
That's the thing about trust.
Falling down can feel strange
No one remembers your name,
You're losing the game
That's the thing about trust
It's always the same
Sad story again
You lose all your friends
That's the thing about trust.
Trust.
