Yes, I feel self doubt sometimes it courses through my veins
Second guessing my direction and questioning each step I take
And yes, yes I feel the pressure too
But I have faith in myself, and I made a choice

And everything you said, was it meant to just change
with the wind
You see the world through jaded eyes and that's not the way I want to live Proud to be, and you know it
I made a choice and my choice is to stand Stand fucking hard

Yes, as the years pass by I feel the loss
So many people slip away and it hurts, it hurts
But I still know what I'm about, And I'll say it again
And I'm proud to be, that's right

with the wind
I thought we shared the same ideals, but now I barely know who the fuck you are Proud to be, and you know it
Proud to be

And I'm still proud to be
And I'm still proud to be, yes yes
And I'm still proud to be
I still wear an X on my hand and you know that I'm still proud to be
