Time won't wait!

It's so hard to see which path to take
Confusion, confusion, what is this all about?
The lives we lead are so full of doubt
What it takes, is finding focus in your life
Not letting indecision cloud your sight
Because time is short and life won't wait

[Chorus:]

Time, how does it move so fast
It slips through my hands
I focus on what lays ahead, I blink my eyes and then it's past
I try to give my best and make the most out of each day
Because I know time won't wait
Time just won't wait

I see you standing in the crowd
You think that you don't feel the strain
Your stance is hard but you're so afraid
What it takes, is placing faith in yourself
Because you're caught in indecision man
And now's the time to find your path

[2x chorus]
