"Come To Me"

Step in the door into your next dimension
Still you can't deny this world you're in Take a moment now, make an effort to catch your breath
Still you can't deny all your regrets
The world out there says it has all that you need
The temptations rise you can't believe
You let the outside in You've fallen into sin

Come to Me He says
For you My blood was shed
You can now be free
Just come to me

So what are we here for
Is our life just pretending
As the question why does no one win
When your looking straight at Him
