You were on your email
Early that morning
Checking out what's going on
Then she came down the stairs
All untill today

No more footsteps
Walking down the stairs every morning
No more footsteps
Life will be boring

From now on
It will be quiet
Every single minute
Of every single day
Because...

No more footsteps
Walking down the stairs every morning
Life is boring

She in a painful state
Being abused when she was younger
There's nothing we can do
Exept hope and pray
So...

No more footsteps
Walking down the stairs every morning
No more footsteps
Uttill the doorbell goes 'bing'

It's the doctor
With my daughter
She's out and alive
One year later
So...

Now there's footsteps
Walking down the stairs every morning
Now there's footsteps
Life's way above boring

Just to let you know
The rest of her life was peaceful
She died in bed
At the age of eighty-nine
Now it's time there's no more footsteps
