Back to the earth, from once you came
Onto the bone, the cold and the rain
You bang on the window,
You sing like a bird in a cage
And you feel like a rat on a wheel
Or what something I'll

Chorus:

Just this once, once let something good happen
Just this once, once let the stars align
Just this one time

Thought that I want the world to be mine
Oh an eye of hearts
When one would be fine
I just want some respect from the voice in my head
These nails on a blackboard,
This cry for a bed
Oh I want something, give me

Chorus:

Just once, once let something good happen
Just this once, once let the stars align
Just this one time

It feels like a whistle time
And it flows round the corners
Right through my head

Chorus:

Just once, once let something good happen
Just this once, once let the stars align
Just this one time
One time please
One time please
