You come to me and say, come into the light
Jesus Christ died, for your fatal sins
Being sucked into the light, into another dimension
Rise from the grave

From the hate you came from
To that hate you shall return
From the darkness, death of your soul
Bitterness eats the flesh, dust to dust

You come to me and say, stay away from the light
Jesus Christ died, for your fatal sins
Being sucked into the light, into another dimension
Rise from the grave
