Time travel the world
That summer will come back around
Some day
Go back and change
Everything wrong
To be ok

What happened to good times
I watched as they went by
What happened to old friends
You threw them out my door
As i stood by
Time and time again

Take back the pain
And throw it away
Before it's too late
My mother sang
The sadness will end
In time to gain

What happened to your heart
It seems it turned to black
What happened to the sky
You made it seem so high
Everyday
Time and time again

What happened to your heart
It seems it turned to black
What happened to the sky
You made it seem so high
As i stood by
Time and time again

Go back to find
That everything wrong
Is all the same
Take my hand
I'll sing a lullaby
To you till the end
