Howling of the wind
Carried cry through the forest
Banshee's warning sign
For bloodshed was committed

On the other side of the forest
The child was crying in silence
His tears turning to blood
As they touched the (snow)

Love is the strongest weapon
Joined with the blade
Blood will wash the sins away
And the dark memories will fade

In one hand he held the hair of mother
And there's a bloody knife in the other
He kills because he loves
He kills to keep the memories untainted

His tears turn in to blood

As they touched the (snow)

Love is the strongest weapon
Joined with the blade
Blood will wash the sins away
And the dark memories will fade

He burned her corpse in to the woods
And entered the deeper forest
Soon snow began to fall
And he strayed from his path

Love is the strongest weapon
Joined with the blade
Blood will wash the sins away
And the dark memories will fade
