Wake up!
Sleeping souls!
Running fast!
We have chewed enough!

Somedays like a heap of leaves problem fills my head
Some knife wounds on my back that I'm looking to treat
Words of wisdom appears definite
Now I feel this strong wind sweep my mind high

Wake up and live!
We have chewed enough!

Years and years I've been running imagining that I'm free
But like a fool without realizing that I was tightly tied
No questions appear in my mind
Now I feel that my thick knot is going to be untied

Wake up and live!
We have chewed enough!

The taste is just renewed
But this transcendental sound
Give us an higher taste
