(Rebecca Martin/Stephony Smith/Chris Difford)

Early in the mornin' the autumn leaves are fallin'
As I watch you lyin there on the bed
Sleepin' like a baby, your breathin' drives me crazy
There's nirvana going on in my head
My coffee cup tries hard to wake you up
What do I do with this perfect love

I will be true to you
I will be true to you
The sun will rise and set
But don't let your heart forget
I will be true to you

Early in the evenin', the days are slowly leavin'
As I watch you in the house of love
Workin' like a soldier, the night is nearly over
And we're gettin' to the physical stuff
Kisses fly as we turn off the light
What do I do with this perfect life

I will be true to you
I will be true to you
The sun will rise and set
But don't let your heart forget
I will be true to you

What will I do with this perfect life
