See me here Drowning in Some self created form of misery

Nothing else seems to matter at all, nothing of any relevance, will release me from here Hit me hard, then cut me deep, it might just hurt or put me to sleep
Please last for another day, comforts me more than it should, gives me the relief, the need more than anything would

Caught up in self reflection, swallowed with appreciation
Nothing else seems to matter at all but even I realize that I'll have to

Wake up

Nothing of any relevance matters here, self reflection, appreciation comforts me, then I'll wake up again
