Prospects of a new life, planning, cash in, cash out Weigh every step I take Live up to every expectation that rests on my shoulder And now I talk to the mouth of some lost soul that never matched up to his own And I wonder how many careers are based on true motivation.

Are mine true enough to make it through time I'll serve mine and already apologize for failing I dare you to say you live the life you dreamed of Consequences first, step out of line, severe damage for sure, think it over first
