Step into a never ending circle that feels so familiar,
never asking for a direction,
Lead me into your love
This time, I just know it's for real
This time. this is how you make me feel
This time, not gonna let it go Recognition
This scene looks so familiar
I've played thsi part before
It's the one where I lost my lines
The director shouted "cut" and I kept talking
And even though I can't remember the words
It must have been the right script
And if you ever wondered why, I can't stop, can't get enough?
I want you to feel, I want you to be here, feel your presence and I love to love you
