

Neurosis "Crawl Back In"

Hammer in skull, I am waiting
To return your suffering
In my mind I see you distant
Broken and lost again

When you come back, I won't know you
We won't fit right like it was before
Time is truth, hard and cruel

And my heart has turned to stone
I crawled back in, I am hungry
I made sure my traps are set in space

We had been standing on these tracks
All the winds never called us back

We laid so long, eternal night
In my heart it never left
I'll stand here, you go on

When you see me I'll be gone
Every road brings us on
The past is never forgiven, it is atoned
