You think that I am satisfied
Because I am not leaving you
Desperately searching for something
Defeating me too

So don't you start to protest
You think I can make you believe
That we are here to encounter
What makes you agree

I can see you
I can feel you
And now I understand all the damage
That I did to you
But I never chose you

I can see you
I can hear you
And now you understand
Anything that I had to do
But I never chose you

And I take my time to
Give you anything you wanted
Seems somebody received all your prayers
But all you just deserve is you

You better be careful you see
Maybe there is something that can go wrong
Every single wish is special to me
Impossible to make undone
