Time is calling us to prepare for ultimate chaos
But many remain unconcerned and defy it
The ancient calenders have us marked for death
Maybe to start clean or quit the countless failures

Destruction may be inevetable and none will survive
Retaliation against the prophets will not help
Weaklings such as us cannot prepare
Dreading that last year is like praying for help

Man has been tweaked since man was created
Time has given our schedule and it must be obeyed
The future holds nothing for us
Mercy is now another world's philosphy

Destruction may be inevetable and none will survive
Retaliation against the prophets will not help
Weaklings such as us cannot prepare
Dreading that last year is like praying for help
