Fury murders the morals
Opening up the time for change
That will make these hiding tyrants die
Life is now controlled by these reckless people

All rebels shall restore true rights and destroy tyrants
Because for years this sickness has angered many
The true eyes and true minds will bring what's right
Friends will tear apart and make the strongest win

Minors continually suffer from oppression
Made worse by stubborn leaders who won't listen
Time has called for change because this era won't live longer
And now safety is an excuse to encroach on private lives

All rebels shall restore true rights and destroy tyrants
Because for years this sickness has angered many
The true eye and true minds will bring what's right
Friends will tear apart and make the strongest win
