"Future Victory"

Bury the failed past with a permanent slab
Capture today's prosperity and happiness
So that the future is mine and not suffering
I will battle the present to win what's mine

A darkened past keeps continuing to climb
I am within it's wraths with the losing battle
A day will come when the gloom is battled
A future victory will keep the happiness

Riding the days when prosperity is distant
A dark overcast sky glooms any victory
My present is still being commanded by a
Past that I want to suppress for happiness

A darkened past keeps continuing to climb
I am within it's wraths with the losing battle
One day will come when the gloom is battled
A future victory will keep the happiness
