

Emperors Of Destruction

"Into The Mayhem"

Feeling the power to unleash all potential
Hiding under the strong mask of civility
Scour the world for it's undignified decisions
One day the soul will rip from it's core

An angry side comes outside when it's disturbed
The calm side comes inside when life flourishes
The world should know my prescence
Into the Mayhem

A lack of a social life propels the extremes to rise
No friends to subdue the reckless potential

I view the world in an extreme light
Leave your material out of my self
Isolation is the way of life
My day is gray and drizzling

An angry side comes outside when it's disturbed
The clam side comes inside when life flourishes
The world should know my prescence
Into the Mayhem
