Stuck in a desert
It has destroyed my mind
I now yell out for better times
Because I broke my sacred promise
And now it's time to head across the mountain

Who owns the subconscious?
It owns me and forces me to do bad deeds
Overcoming the desperate mountainside
That I am destined to overcome

Edegeness dulled
Drives the doom
Insanity reserected to fullfil my downfall
I've crossed it and now the prize is gone
Crowned the best no longer follows

Who owns the subconscious?
It owns me and force me to do bad deeds
Overcoming the desperate mountain
That I am destined to overcome
