Liberty has now been caged
Her powers taken by her superiors
Forever to weep for the glorious day
That's enough
The change must now come

Once luminous
It has caved down into depths of the despised cradle
Where has the freedom psyche gone?
Reawaken liberty will bring us to the cherished edge
When people were them and not society's pet

This demand has been answered
Only to be demolished by her evil superiors
Lest this be the last time this will happen
Bring in the light for good

Once luminous
It has caved down into depths of the despised cradle
Where has the freedom psyche gone?
Reawaken liberty will bring us to the cherished edge
When people were them and not society's pet
