

Emperors Of Destruction

"Torture And Blood"

The path has been littered by hell
Faced the guaranteed pains by just letting life take me
Beating and punishment were all the same
Unleashed the madness within
That was destined for vengeance without pain

Is there an easy way at redemption?
Is there an easy way to cross the path?
The power cannot be freed now
Only if the path wasn't littered

Peace was hard at best
Never to be mentioned in the world of torture
Where one must reign above others
The torture and blood has pursued it to fuel destruction

Is there an easy way at redemption?
Is there an easy way to cross the path?
The power cannot be freed now
Only if the path wasn't littered
