"High Ground"

I've seen it coming, arms to the sky
Fables and memories on a road we never ride
Some say she wandered, and maybe they're right
Burned by some memory, on a fateful summer night

Take me to higher ground
Where the lights are shinning down
Where love is waiting there for all

Down by the water, stars in the sky
Maybe just make believe that the world is yours and mine
She's seen it coming oh for miles and miles
Lay down make love to me
Here at home we'll never die
