They're all around us
They whisper in our ears
Some hear their voices
But they never understand

They speak words of wisdom
To those who believe (do you believe?)
Some call them angels
But some remain forgotten

Burning desire
To stand for righteousness
Champions long before us
Abandoned heroes

They're watching us from the heavens
And if we believe, we can be those heroes
It's inside of you and me

But we often lose ourselves
To the spoils of this world
And there is no turning back
Our mistakes can't be undone

But now I know (of) the the memories they've left behind
(And) Their selflessness will not be wasted

I do believe

Deep inside we are all heroes
We don't need a pattern
Our courage is faceless
And nothing can stop us

So close your eyes
Embrace this moment
Let's hear the voices
Of the abandoned heroes

We will never fall (and we will)

Never be defeated

We can be heroes if we believe

This is victory
