Everything has a reason
You can have it, I dont want this
And Im through with this damage
I am over
I am done with
Well I cant see the back of your mind
So quit wasting my time
Everythings not alright
And I know I will pay for my crimes
I cant stay in the lines, but I want what is mine...yea

It reminds me of my misery...
It reminds me of my misery...
It reminds me of my misery, since it makes me fall and takes it all away

It reminds me of my misery...
It reminds me of my misery...
It reminds me of my misery, when a change is called for the blame is all the same.

Is there anything sacred
Do we care
Do we feel
Well Im over the struggle
I am stronger
I am healed
I still see all the memories of time
But Im here once again like it was in the end
I hope you know where I wanted to be
But when you walked away I had finally found me
