A wise man came across the sea
In search of LSD philosophy With open heart and open mind
To find the goodness in mankind Bare your soul and you're saved Believe the chosen that dreams in rage

Chemicals improve the view Visions now have bloomed in you Windowpane is suffered bliss
A psychedelic kiss
Show to me your ideology
Do you perceive or are you sleeping?

Timothy Leary, where are you now
The world needs you, we're going down

In translation they used the key Altered visions, Tao Teh Ching Open sky to paint their dreams
And see as did Lao Tzu
Melt away all the hate and pain Mission is clear, awake the dreaming

Go to sleep child, and dream

When Timothy Leary first started speaking out in the sixties people didn't understand what he was trying to say, some people didn't want to understand him, the establishment wanted to kill him, they wanted to suppress him, squash him like a bug, we always want to kill what we do not understand, all he was trying to say was that we need to realize our inner harmony, to see things in a different way, to truly be free...

Electric religion
