(instrumental)

i am the poet, who never wants it. like a hollow brain bullet, straight through the head i never miss you....

Within the dark communion of self- awareness, there lies a void called ego an endless fusion of stillness and chaos, to bring its death can bring rebirth,

i want to freeze the time,
(dissolve in to gray)
disintegrate the line,
(as we disintergrate-
let the rain come down let the solitude surround)

i want to change the lines,
(dissolve in to gray)
and purify the divide,
(as we disintergrate-
are we ever free or slaves to technology?)
outside the falling walls of pride and prejudice, there is a voice that speaks in circles,
and the illusions still fall before us, there is no future so profess your pain.

i want to freeze the time,
(dissolve in to gray)
disintergrate the line
(as we disintergrate-
let the rain come down let the solitude surround)

i want to change the lines,
(dissolve in to gray)
and purify the divide,
(as we disintegrate-
are we ever free or slaves to technology?)
