GABE:

you damn near tackled me when I tried to go thru your phone and you say that Im trippin in a crazy tone

we always fight seems like it every night and sometimes we don't have a reason where we were you last night you said you'd be with friends didn't come home till the morning not one text was sent too drunk to drive?

girl stop with all the lies and tell me who's the other guy you see that is there two sides every story we both can be right cuz then we won't have to fight fight Since there's two sides to every story Imma give you a chance to say what's on your mind
I know theres two sides

Amber:

he's just a friend
I know what u been thinkn that Im off with some other guy just cause I have been drinkn

GABE:

uh hold up for min
how don't you fricken get it Im not against you having friends do you think that Im an idiot? he calls you in the morning when your in my bed

Amber:

I told you he's a friend and it's just in your head

GABE:

if its in my head then why you so defensive

AMBER:

there's something you should know before you go
we both can be right just not in the same way because there's two sides to every story

BRIDGE:

I could be wrong and u may be right but ill give you chance to tell me your side I was out with my friends we were hangin last night I lost track of time im sorry that I caused this fight

we both can be right just not in the same way
