I could be set aside
Forgotten, drained and burnt alive
Ooh, I could be buried beneath your grounds
I could be left outside and tossed around
I could be here and there whenever you head out Standing by your side amongst this battleground

Ooh lover you better settle down
Ooh lover you better settle down

I could be anything
Invaded and surrendering
Another step beneath your feet for you to walk upon
I could be tattooed, scared the past bygone
I could be all you need the night the dawn
Give you shelter from the pains that life has set upon

Ooh lover you better settle down

Ooh lover you better settle down

It's such a silly thing I been waiting forever
It's such a simple thing I was under your cover
If you'd rush through me and blushed my cheeks and reminded me who I'm supposed to be, I would, I could for you.

Ooh lover you better settle down
Ooh lover you better settle down
Ooh lover you better settle down
Ooh lover you better settle down

It's such a silly thing I been waiting forever
It's such a simple thing I was under your cover
reminded me who I'm supposed to be, I would, I could
for you.
