So I put too much emphasis on the past
But I always thought it would last, the test of time
But how could I not see all of the signs
Like how she'd be leaving, out creeping, out sleeping
With some other guy, besides me
It's not hard to believe
But ever since she ran over my love
I swore to trust no one

But here you come along
Tell me where'd you come from
I can't put down my gun
Inside I want to run
But you keep standing in my way
Staring in my face
So let me end the chase
I'll risk a change

Tonight I want someone that I can confide in I've been holding my heart back from giving love a chance
But If I let go again, I need to make sure that you'll be true, true, true
Be true to me, true to me
True to me, true to me
True to me, true to me
Be true, true, true
Be true to me, true to me
True to me, true to me
True to me, true to me
Be true, true, true, true

So don't you see that I am, just trying to find my feet to stand?
I let go of all she destroyed
And it could be a beautiful disaster
I'm not sure if I'm ready for what comes after
She took the air from me
She held me underneath
She watched me drown in the pain, and left me suffering
I gave her everything, look how she repaid me

She walked out and just betrayed me

But here you come along
Tell me where'd you come from
I can't put down my gun

Inside I want to run
But you keep standing in my way
Staring in my face
So let me end the chase

True to me, true to me
True to me, true to me
Be true, true, true
True to me, true to me
True to me, true to me

Be true to me, true to me
True to me, true to me
True to me, true to me
Be true, true, true

Be true to me, true to me
True to me, true to me
True to me, true to me

Be true to me, true to me
True to me, true to me
True to me, true to me
Be true, true, true

Be true to me, true to me
True to me, true to me
True to me, true to me

true, true, true

Be true to me, true to me
True to me, true to me
True to me, true to me
Be true, true, true
True to me, true to me
True to me, true to me
