I'll take a breath
As I pick sunflowers
On the ground they follow you and they desire your light
As I do with the air

That fill
Me I swell
Of you
To stay Closer
Because here is cold
And there by the stars, Your heat seems
To Have Power, To bronze ice
And whiten the darkness

But all around me fades away and you stop time
But it's slow as a day with no water
My path towards you I can't see it
I don't need sight
Cause I feel I am right

I feel
With skin
And nose
Your love

Breathing

In wisdom and out my past
I
Wave
Hands
In the air catching every signal

I collect your trails in me
And I breathe your silent words
And warm a bit also Me

All around me fades away and you stop time
But it's slow as a day with no water
My path towards you I can't see it

I don't need sight
Cause I feel I am right

I feel
With skin
And nose
Your love
Cause I feel it on my skin
As I smell it in my nose
How your love is good to me
How your love is road to purity
