what's that you said, i wasn't listening tell me again, what were you saying i won't misunderstand, i want to be clear, i want to know your plan speak softly, softly, whisper in my ear tell me what you want me to hear and i might comprehend, though sometimes your words they surround me and drown me or i might just pretend turn up my senses and turn down my defenses speak softly, softly, whisper in my ear

tell me, tell me everything, show me the peace that it brings you and in the calm of morning let me hear you singing, yeah
you know i want to hear you singing, yeah
