

Mark Adam Trimpey "Quagmire"

Visit "Quagmire" on MotoLyrics.com if i had more time to waste i would stand here talking Â'til the sun came up over the boulevard if i had more time i would close my eyes and i would think real hard about it and i would try to comprehend how this mess got started

if i had more hours to sit here and wonder and ponder and think my way around some grand idea iÂ'd formulate one hell of a plan, if i had just a few more hours, man and i would push the limits of your understanding and if i had an ounce of will or any will at all, i would stand up and walk out i would stand up and walk right out of here but i am weak, and iÂ'm unclear and if i had a clue about what lies ahead, well i might know what to do but at the moment iÂ'm broken in two, yeah i am broken into

if i had any talent i would have moved to nashville and made a million dollars singing songs about desire iÂ'd have set the world on fire, i would have righted every wrong
but i just sit here rotting in this deep quagmire if i had the strength of mind to figure out what the hell i ought to do and the faith to see it through, yeah the restraint to see it through or the strength of heart it takes to let it go and to leave it all behind i need to find some peace of mind, i need to find some peace of mind

Visit Mark Adam Trimpey page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

