You get up now, you got to work I'll wake up now, I got to go cause every time I lose you my body kneels I want to give a try but it's pulling me down

You go crazy and I go mad things got lazy, so what?
The mystery won't sail until we die
I'm acting like a child and it's pulling me down

Man, you need me and I need you Yes, I feel it, you feel it, too
The purity of tears, the plans we never made I wanna make them real but it's pulling me high

I'm sick of all the mess in your mind and I'm sick of all the mess in your eyes, in your acts, in your wrong supposedly life!

I'm tired of all your doubts on my words and I'm tired of all your doubts on my life, on your life, nothing, nothing more to tell!

I wanna dance and smile,
I wanna smile, let me laugh, acting silly, looking silly for no decisions you don't take!

God, I miss you, I miss you and when I miss you,... cause every time I sing, I do it for you it's the only thing I have and share with you

La, la, la
