We've packed our things and closed the door
We never said goodbye
Cities, landscapes, a broken car,
A house that wasn't mine
I promised to make new friends
And you would find a job
Different places, different names
But no peace in your mind

Sometimes you wanna fly away,
You try to change but it all stays the same
Sometimes life is right here and far away,
We keep running from our beasts

I understand, your intensions are great
You couldn't stand it, the fear and the pain
All bad things must come to an end
Stay close to me through the storm and the rain
(I understand your intensions are great,
you couldn't stand the fear and the pain)

Lovers say their hearts get broken,
What are we gonna say?

Crashes, falls and burns, they hurt
Will the scars heal?

Time will heal an open wound
Will it give us peace?
Memories of an unknown future
Is all that remains here

Sometimes you wanna fly away,
You try to change but it all stays the same
Sometimes life is right here and far away,
We keep running from our beasts

I understand, your intensions are great
You couldn't stand it, the fear and the pain
All bad things must come to an end
Stay close to me through the storm and the rain
(I understand your intensions are great,

you couldn't stand the fear and the pain)

There is no place on earth we can call our own,
The moment we feel as one is when we find a new home
