Yours is not lesser than a greatest hero's life
Swear and lie but your core stays undyed
Fall apart and start again
Reconstruct what's left and leave the rest aside

It's sacrifice, it's compromise to let things go
It's sacrifice, it's your disguise what burns your soul
It's sacrifice, it's compromise to let things go
It's sacrifice, it's your disguise what burns your soul

And I was told the same things you heard
Waiting for crystal savior, waiting for crystal savior

I stopped and realized I'm far from truth
Spotted the grace in failure, spotted the grace in failure

It's sacrifice, it's compromise to let things go
It's your disguise and pricey lies what burns your soul
It's sacrifice, it's compromise to let things go
It's your disguise and my advice what burns your soul

Spotted the grace in failure, spotted the grace in failure
